

Win a trip to Rockwood with Quinton de Kock

Magnetic Creative and Quinton de Kock are inviting the public to participate in awareness about rhinos and raise funding to protect these endangered animals. They have created an entertaining promo video for Rockwood Conversation. In the video, De Kock describes how rhinos are poached every 10 hours in South Africa.

A competition was formed as means for Quinton to invite members of the public to join him on his quest and stand a chance to win a VIP rhino adventure at the five-star Rockwood Conservation Lodge, people can enter and donate. For more information go to Rockwood's website.
