

Cheaper Internet access from MWeb; News24, Opera Mini partner

Apart from the launch of TopTV, this morning, Thursday, 18 March 2010, saw MWeb with the support of its parent company Naspers announce that it is now offering cheap uncapped ADSL packages for South Africa which should have a dramatic effect on the country's Internet usage, and Opera Software has partnered with News24.com to provide one-click access to the News24 mobisite, <http://m.news24.com>, direct from the Opera Mini browser. According to Opera's State of the Mobile Web Report, SA ranks number six in the world for most mobile web users and during the past year, SA mobile web usage has jumped 241%.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>