

Reach For A Dream turns 18

The Reach For A Dream Foundation is proud to be celebrating its 18th birthday in 2006, and celebrated with a huge birthday party sponsored by Teljoy at the Rand Airport on the 7th of July.

The Lime Envelope, Teljoy's public relations agency, designed a funfair-like birthday celebration for the Reach For A Dream children and their families, which also saw the surprise handover of dreams to a number of the Reach For A Dream children.

A number of South African celebrities, including PJ Powers, Danny K, Andre Nel, Baby Jake, Claudia Henkel, Marlon Roelfze (Shaun in Egoli), Mo the Vodacom Mascot, the Smarties Man and a number of others, spent time with the children throughout the day.
