

biNu rolls out its app in Africa

Australian tech company biNu is rolling out its app in Africa that gives basic mobile feature phones fast, cheap and easy access to Internet services and apps, after major success in the emerging markets of Asia. They have chosen to set up shop in Cape Town after weighing up various "tech-friendly" cities across Africa, because they believe the best tech talent pool and development amenities can be found in Cape Town and South Africa. For more, go to www.binu.com.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>