Paratus Telecom acquires Maxwell Technology

Telecommunications company, Paratus Telecom has acquired full-spectrum end-to-end connectivity solutions provider, Maxwell Technology (Pty) Limited, allowing it to enter the African telecommunications market.

With a presence in more than 22 countries, Paratus Telecom South Africa intends on being the primary choice connectivity solutions facilitator for companies expanding into Africa. The company has 3,000 active satellite terminals across Africa and is the second largest operator of iDirect Hubs providing communication services to Africa. It operates hubs in the UK, South Africa, Luanda, and Namibia.

For more, visit: https://www.bizcommunity.com