

#BeautifulNews: A young revolutionary, an army of activists, and a mission to save the earth

What are you doing for the earth in this time of crisis? Our planet is facing an environmental emergency which authorities are doing little to halt. Many of these disasters, such as deforestation and the burning of fossil fuels, are the result of processes generated by major corporations. They're issues that can be dealt with. Yet the situation gets worse every day. Eleven-year-old Othembele Dyantyi is raising her voice to encourage a union of action against this unprecedented climate injustice.

Read Othembele Dyanti's full story here.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>