Both award nights saw big wins for the TBWA\ network in traditional and new categories alike, for campaigns like the highly acclaimed Highway Gallery from TBWA\RAAD taking a Grand Prix in the radio category, #BreakingBallet from TBWA\Hunt\Lascaris Johannesburg receiving Campaign Gold in Social Media and Silver in the Data Driven Campaign, #HopeJoanna from Grid Worldwide being awarded Silver in the Internet Video category and the Fear and Fantasy Festival from TBWA\ REKLAM HIZMETLERI A.S. also taking a Grand Prix for Identity Programmes. .“Our success at this years Loeries is both a testament to the creative philosophy of Disruption and a manifestation of our investment strategy, where we have invested heavily in attracting and growing data capabilities, production capabilities, talent initiatives and innovation in general” explains Sean Donovan, CEO of TBWA\South Africa.

The work we are producing is proof of real shifts in the TBWA\ business over the past eighteen months with much more inter-agency collaboration within the group here in SA as well as the region. We see ourselves not as a network of distinctive agencies within a group or a territory but more a creative collective from which we pull the most suited resources for a particular task, united under a philosophy of being The Disruption Company.” says TBWA\ President for CEE, Middle East and Africa, Cem Topçuoğlu.

Speaking on behalf of TBWA\RAAD, Chief Creative Officer Walid Kanaan says “Our performance at the Loeries’ this year was our best to date, and to contribute to winning the prestigious “Group Agency of the Year” is an unexpected extra. We’re so thankful to our clients for their trust, and so proud to see our willingness to take big creative risks being rewarded on this level. “

The Loeries success comes only weeks after a standout showing at Cannes, “a strong indication that we continue to pass

these goals.”
