

e.tv's Golding goes

NEWSWATCH: Marcel Golding has resigned from e.tv, reports Mail & Guardian, savvy KZN media are adopting survival tactics reports The Media Online and MTN has launched a new reverse call service, Pay4Me, reports IT News Africa.

Marcel Golding. (Image extracted from the HQ website.)

For more:

- Mail & Guardian: Marcel Golding resigns from e.tv... After losing an urgent court application to halt a disciplinary action case on Monday, it emerged that Golding resigned on Sunday.
- The Media Online: New waves in KZN media... Necessity may be the mother of invention, but the savviest members of the KwaZulu-Natal media are reinvigorating themselves with survival tactics and new approaches.
- IT News Africa: MTN launches new reverse call service... MTN has launched a new service designed to ensure that all MTN customers who have run out of airtime can stay connected by means of a reversed charged call. The service is called MTN Pay4Me.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>