

UHD TVs introduced to Ghanaian market

Modern Ghana reports that Samsung Electronics West Africa has introduced its latest, super-sized 85-inch Ultra High-Definition (UHD) TVs to the Ghanaian market.

For more:

- Modern Ghana: Samsung 85" Ultra High Definition TV finally arrives in Ghana... According to the report, the UHD TVs "are set to redefine TV watching experience with a resolution which is four times more than that of regular full HD TVs".

Said Richard Nunekpeku, marketing manager for Consumer Electronics at Samsung West Africa, "At Samsung, we are meeting these demands with our Smart TVs, which offer effortless and intuitive ways for our consumers to discover and share more of the content they love."

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>